Journal of Veterinary Orthopedics

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF: Michael R. Herron, D.V.M., M.S.
Diplomate, American College of Veterinary Surgeons
Professor, Department of Small Animal
Medicine & Surgery
Texas A&M University

A dynamic new professional specialty journal for the orthopedic sector of veterinary knowledge. Devoted to orthopedic diseases, surgical procedures and orthopedic instrumentation, this journal covers the full range of orthopedic care in all species. Here, the veterinary profession is offered a compilation of professional specialty material similar to that which is available in the human specialty journals. Refereed, illustrated and edited for concise readable presentations, the Journal of Veterinary Orthopedics is an essential reference for practitioners, academic and industry veterinarians, and every professional to whom up-to-date information on this important sector of veterinary experience is significant. Abstracts from pertinent papers in the human orthopedic field included.

- Refereed
- Instrumentation
- Surgical Techniques
